If the Axis Powers won World War 2 the world would be much different such as the Holocaust would have continued. Most if not all of the Jewish people in Europe would have been eradicated. A large portion of Europe would be controlled by the axis powers. This would have severely restricted the people's freedoms such as education, religion, travel. This would have severely slowed tech growth. In all likelihood, the Soviet Union would have collapsed. The Italians would have control of the Mediterranean. America wouldn't have their European allies. The League of Nations would have been disbanded and NATO would have never been formed. Nazism would have spread throughout most of Europe. The global financial markets would also change as there might not be trade throughout most of the eastern and western worlds. The globe would probably be split down the middle, stuck in a cold war between the soviets and the US.
